WANTS CHILDREN TO WORK.

President of Monongahela Mine Workers Denounces Child Labor Law.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURG, June 27.—At a meeting of the members of the United Mine Workers, held at Monongahela this afternoon, President Patrick Dolan roundly denounced Gov. Pennypacker for signing the bill which prevents boys under sixteen years of age from working in the mines. President Dolan declared that in many instances these boys were the only support of widowed mothers, and that it would be an outrage to take this support away.

He advised the miners to disregard the law entirely, and said that if there was any attempt to enforce it, he would find out why other laws of long standing have been allowed to become dead letters. There was much enthusiasm over the speech, and the miners will take the advice of the President.
